KEY MARKET SIZE

ESTIMATES & FORECASTS

The global low-code development platform market was valued at around US $28.75 billion in 2024, and is projected to reach about US $264.40 billion by 2032, at a CAGR of ~32.2 %.

The global no-code development platforms market was estimated at US $28.11 billion in 2024, rising to about US $35.61 billion in 2025, and forecast to reach US $86.55 billion by 2029, at a CAGR of ~24.9 %.

Some forecasts for the low-code market show it reaching US $241.9 billion by 2034 (from approx US $22.5 billion in 2024) at ~26.8 % CAGR.

According to one source, the LC/NC market had grown from around US $12 billion in 2020 to a projection of ~US $187 billion by 2030.

On usage: By 2030, it's estimated that 70% of new applications developed by organizations will use low-code or no-code technologies.

WHY THIS COURSE?

No-Code and Low-Code solutions have become increasingly important in today's fast-paced digital landscape because they empower both technical and non-technical users to create applications and automate processes quickly without extensive programming knowledge.

These platforms enable businesses to innovate faster, reduce development costs, and adapt swiftly to changing market needs. By providing visual interfaces, drag-and-drop tools, and pre-built integrations, No-Code/Low-Code systems streamline application development and bridge the gap between IT and business teams.

They also help address the global shortage of skilled developers while promoting digital transformation, efficiency, and collaboration across organizations.
